

35th Annual Meeting of the Southeast Deer Study Group
Shifting Paradigms: Are Predators Changing the Dynamics of Managing Deer in the Southeast?

February 26-29, 2012
Sandestin, Florida

Meeting Donation Request

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) will host the 2012 Southeast Deer Study Group (SEDSG) meeting February 26-29, 2012 in Sandestin, Florida. This will be the 35th annual meeting of deer biologists, managers, researchers and enthusiasts.

Hosted on a rotating basis by a different southeastern state wildlife agency's deer management section, the conference provides deer biologists, managers and researchers a venue for presenting their most recent findings on deer biology and management. Florida previously hosted the event, the largest annual meeting of its kind across the Southeast, in Orlando in 1996.

To help support this meeting, we are soliciting sponsors and donations. The SEDSG is a chartered group under The Wildlife Society. As such, revenue and expenditures for the SEDSG meeting are being handled by the Florida Chapter of The Wildlife Society (FLTWS). FLTWS is a non-profit organization that is certified as a 501(c)(3) tax exempt group. Donations made to FLTWS are tax deductible.
